

Marengo Academy Marker Dedication

The Historical Marker for the Marengo Academy finally arrived a few weeks ago in January (delivery had been expected before November 5, 2005). CCHGS will host a formal dedication of the marker on April 29, 2006. An open house for the event will begin at 11:30 a.m. at the Marengo Christian's Missionary Church and the dedication ceremony will begin at 1:00 p.m. Park in the church lot to walk just a few yards to the Marker site. Details such as speakers are still being worked out. Descendants of the academy's Professor Johnson accepted our invitation and hope to attend. Local and state officials will be invited.

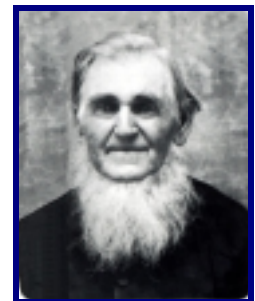

CCHGS President Jim Kaiser and volunteer library visitors loaded the Academy's Historical Marker on to the truck of County Historian Richard Eastridge. After months of waiting, the marker had finally arrived on a semi, and the delivery was accepted at the Crawford County Public Library in English.

Final plans for the formal dedication of the marker will be announced in the local newspaper (the Clarion), and on our website www.cchgs.org.

Call Richard Eastridge at 812-338-2057 or Densil Wilson at 812-338-4261 for additional information.

Marengo Academy

Professor
J. M. Johnson